

SurePlate™

Trailer License Plate Holder Bracket Flexible & Durable Rubber

What is SurePlate™?

SurePlate™ is a trailer license plate holder and was designed for the avid boater. If you trail your boat or PWC in and out of water often, you will come to learn that all the solutions provided at much lower cost do not work! We've tried them all, metal or plastic. Given time and use, you will eventually lose your license plate with current designs on the market. The problem with metal holders is corrosion and eventually fatigue. If you buy a stainless steel holder/bracket, you will fare better, however, you will eventually back into a minor obstruction (bush, dock, etc.) and damage the license plate and/or bracket. The plastic versions are very low cost, but given time, plastics don't fare well in sunshine (they degrade under UV light) and will eventually fatigue fail and crack. If you own a snowmobile, plastics don't do well in cold weather.

Save yourself the trouble !

If you have already lost your license plate, you know the hassle (even more so if you get a citation for operating without a license plate)! For those that haven't yet gone through this, here is the routine you will go through: 1) you will need to visit your local police department and fill out a police report, 2) with the police report you will travel to your local DMV department and wait on line to get a new plate. This experience will cost you at least 2 hours of your precious time along with new plate fees.
